

Chicano Database

The premier bibliographic index to the Chicano/Latino experience in the U.S.

Produced by the Ethnic Studies Library at the University of California, Berkeley, the Chicano Database covers a wide range of materials focused on the Mexican-American and Chicano experience, as well as the broader Latino experience of Puerto Ricans, Cuban Americans and Central American immigrants since 1992. Its content is designed to further research, teaching and scholarship for Chicano studies programs and extended ethnic studies curricula, giving researchers targeted access to materials that explore the broad dimensions of class, race and gender within the Chicano and Latino U.S. experience.

Content and Features

Interdisciplinary in nature, this acclaimed database provides:

- Over 70,000 records from more than 2,400 journals and other resources, including newspapers, books, book chapters and more
- Extensive coverage dating back to the 1960s, with selective indexing dating back to the early 1900s
- Uniform subject access to a continuously growing body of literature

In-Depth Subject Coverage

Wide-ranging in scope, the Chicano Database covers subjects including:

- Art
- Bilingual Education
- Education
- Health
- History
- Labor
- Language
- Literature
- Mental Health
- Politics
- And much more...

Powerful Search Experience

The Chicano Database is now available on EBSCOhost®—the leading research platform. EBSCOhost provides an easy-to-use, yet powerful user search experience, with basic and advanced search options, limiters for fine-tuning searches, options to create alerts, share content and save search results to personal folders, and much more. Users can also link to full-text content and cross-search databases through EBSCO's SmartLinking capabilities, providing a more valuable and in-depth research experience with every search.

For more information or to request a free trial,
contact your EBSCO Sales Representative: